sologic®
root cause analysis

Join thousands of students who have benefited from Sologic RCA training, saving their organizations time and money by solving tough problems.

Problems. Whether your organization designs and manufactures airplanes, creates cutting-edge software, or attacks the world's most impactful social issues, you are going to run into problems that slow you down. No one is immune. Collectively, repeat problems burden companies with billions of dollars in added expenses and lost revenues every year. In short, problems keep us from attaining our objectives.

Learn to solve tough, recurring problems!

The most successful people in any organization are always the best at solving problems. The good news is everyone can quickly learn a simple set of proven skills to solve problems effectively.

This 3.5 hour Tactical Root Cause Analysis Course will help you quickly master the art of structured problem solving. Already have strong problem-solving skills? This course will make you better.
